"Spread Peace and Love" mural by VCS students on display

On Thursday, February 21st, 50 third graders from Ventura Charter School of Arts and Global Education (VCS) walked two miles to Ventura City Hall for a highly anticipated field trip. This journey was a celebration of the unveiling of their "Spread Peace and Love" mural on display in City Hall. The spirit of this peaceful mural is to be a traveling art peace around the city. When third-grade VCS teachers Emily Noel and Kim "Flow" Hansmeier reached out to Ventura City Hall to be the first hosts of the art piece, City Hall was instantly supportive and excited.

Kathryn Dippong Lawson, Ventura City Hall's Cultural Arts, Education & Historic Supervisor, helped coordinate this special event. The day involved a glance at Ventura's historical art pieces within City Hall on a guided tour from Tobie Roach, the City of Ventura's Public Art Specialist. Students had many opportunities to learn about famous, local artists and to connect with art through reflection, observations, and questions.

The field trip concluded with a "Mayor Meet Up" as students had the unique opportunity to chat with Ventura's Mayor Matt LaVere. Mayor LaVere then concluded the incredible experience by unveiling the student's art piece of peace. Many high fives, cheers, and peace signs were given and joyful pictures were taken with the Mayor.

As Planning Director, she managed a staff of 41.

Kimberly Prillhart selected as County Resource Management Agency Director

Kimberly Prillhart has been selected as the new director of the Resource Management Agency. The appointment was made by County Executive Officer Mike Powers following a search which included strong internal and external candidates. Prillhart replaces Chris Stephens who retired in January after 13 years as the agency's director.

Prillhart started with the County in 1998 and for the past 10 years has served as the County's Planning Director. As Planning Director, she managed a staff of 41 and a $6.1 million budget.

"Kim has consistently demonstrated leadership and expertise in navigating with her team through the many complex issues she has handled as Planning Director," said Powers. "Kim has a track record of working well with, and listening to, stakeholders with diverse perspectives in order to identify the right balance in arriving at land use decisions that support the Board of Supervisors' vision for land use in our beautiful County. This approach to leadership will serve her well in broadening her role to overseeing the critical areas of the Resource Management Agency including Environmental Health, Weights and Measures, Code Compliance and Building and Safety."

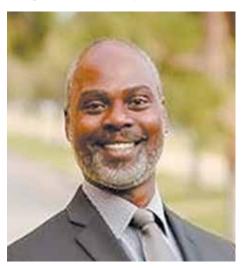

In her new role, Prillhart will oversee planning, building and environmental health; and direct the enforcement of laws and ordinances regulating land use, zoning, weights, measures and environmental protection.

"I am excited to continue to move the agency forward as we update our General Plan and look to the future of Ventura County," said Prillhart.

Prillhart began her career with the County as an intern and was then hired to work on the Surface Mining and Reclamation Act program, overseeing 27 mines. She rapidly advanced through five planning positions prior to be named as Planning Director. She has served as president of the California Counties Planning Directors Association and on the board of the California American Planning Association, and she is a 20-year member of the American Institute of Certified Planners.

Prillhart, 56, has a degree in Environmental Studies from the University of California at Santa Barbara. She is a resident of Ventura and will start her new position at a salary of $202,419.

Wilson began his career with VCPWA's Water and Sanitation Department.

Derrick Wilson is the new Strategic Operations Manager

The Ventura County Public Works Agency (VCPWA) has named Derrick Wilson as Strategic Operations Manager to lead the newly formed division within the Central Services Department (CSD) concentrated on planning, execution, analysis and knowledge (PEAK) management for VCPWA.

Prior to serving as VCPWA's Strategic Operations Manager, Wilson began his career with VCPWA's Water and Sanitation Department managing staff and services in the Integrated Waste Management Division. Wilson's new role will focus on agency-wide organizational excellence and continuous process improvement. He will oversee a variety of agency-wide activities which include implementation of the agency's strategic plan, tracking and reporting performance metrics, leading the Business Quality Council, and assisting departments with completing, documenting and reporting process improvements.

"Our new strategic Operations Manager is by far one of VCPWA's most important roles. Our agency operations require our full team working together with great expertise and passion to keep our communities safe, through all of our many public works projects and our immediate response to emergencies through our five departments," said Jeff Pratt, Director of VCPWA. "Derrick's key position will keep us extremely efficient and cost effective as we work on behalf of Ventura county. The safety and quality of life of our community is paramount to VCPWA."

With a combined 27 years in public service, 10 years at the County of Santa Barbara and 17 years with the County of Ventura, Wilson has successfully led teams and completed enterprise-level initiatives employing process improvement, business process redesign, change management and project leadership skills.

evacuate the hillsides to save lives, early implementation of communication and outreach efforts, and prioritization of critical City services.

Ventura and the entire State of California are learning important lessons from recent wildfires, including the Thomas Fire. The City is using these lessons to increase its disaster resiliency. For example, as part of this effort, the City is moving forward with a request to create a permanent Emergency Manager. The new position will coordinate ongoing efforts, maintain compliance and provide day-to-day tactical emergency management. Although no urban water system is designed to operate under or protect against a massive, unstoppable wildfire, further investments also include obtaining and positioning additional generators to ensure that all water facilities have sufficient backup power during a prolonged, citywide power shutoff, and programs that increase water supply reliability to respond to natural and man-made hazards. Since the Thomas Fire, Ventura has also added supplemental fire resources, which includes an additional roaming fire engine that provides 40 hours a week more of service to the City.

"We continue to share our heartfelt sympathy for those who were impacted by the fire," said Fire Chief David Endaya. "We are committed to learning from this disaster and preparing for the future. This includes requests for new positions, like an Emergency Manager, that can further support and help lead our disaster response efforts. Wildfires are an unfortunate, but likely reality in California. The most resilient cities are those that listen, learn, and adapt - Ventura will do just that."

After action reviews are critical in helping communities examine and learn from disasters like the Thomas Fire. Through this experience Ventura is driving forward with new actions, measures, and programs to better prepare for the years to come.

"Spread Peace and Love" mural

Quotes from VCS third grade artists reflecting on their big day at Ventura City Hall:

"At City Hall, we met awesome people! Kathryn and Tobie seemed very passionate about the City Hall art and they wanted to share it with us. City Hall inspired us to do more. The Mayor was much different than I thought he'd be. I thought he'd be really old. He was so fun and cool! We learned that the Mayor's job is important. The Mayor makes Ventura a better community. He's a kind person. Meeting him was an exciting opportunity. Maybe I can be the Mayor one day. The Mayor said that every day he walks into City Hall and the first thing he sees is our mural saying, 'Spread Peace and Love' and it reminds him to do that. He said the best Mayors spread peace and love."

"This mural was about kindness, spreading peace, and love to others. We went to be representatives of kindness. We went to show ourselves being a part of the community. Spreading peace, love, and kindness is all that we want to do and are going to do; all that we are. We want our community to be peaceful and kind. We are all pieces of the mural. There are 50 parts/bones of the mural."

"Our mural is a chance to express ourselves and the work we've done. Our peaceful family is open for others to join. We can all be one and bring others together. When you're kind to yourself, it makes being kind to others easier. The mural is a reminder you can be peaceful and you can set the example; it's something we don't want people to forget."

Opinion/Editorial

The city has released its longawaited report on the Thomas Fire (article on the cover). I found the small amount of information covering the lack of water to fight the fire a little disappointing in the 25-page report.

The report says: "During the Thomas Fire, the City's water system operated as designed. No urban water system is designed to operate under or protect against a massive, unstoppable wildfire." Hmm, perhaps it should be.

Previous Ventura councilmember, and current Ventura County Supervisor, Steve Bennett has expressed the same concerns.

- The Breeze has always had a little problem receiving an abundant amount of comments and opinions from readers, but once I criticized Trump (and published a political cartoon that did the same) we are finally receiving lots of opinions. This is good and makes me very happy. Please keep them coming in support of, or critical of, Trump. And other opinions are appreciated as well, of course.
- On Nov. 6, 2012, Donald Trump tweeted, "The electoral college is a disaster for a democracy." If the President says so it must be true. Maybe it is the time to take action to make sure that the loser of the election is never made President of the United States.
- A Pennsylvania church administrator stole $1.2 million that he and his wife used to pay for vacations, sports tickets and other personal expenses. David and Connie Reiter are charged with theft, forgery and receiving stolen property. The money was stolen from the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Upper St. Clair over the course of about 17 years. David Reiter had been the church's administrator since 2001. Will they still go to heaven? Isn't it about time for Congress to pass an update to the National Emergency Act? The Act needs a much clearer definition of the conditions under which a President (several have done this) can declare a national emergency. Isn't the measle epidemic becoming a national emergency? If I were President, it would be. And we would also have a national holiday for left-handed people to show their amazing contribution to society.

Health officials identified another measles case in Clark County. There are now 65 confirmed cases in the outbreak.

Officials say 57 of the patients were not immunized, and six are not verified to have had the vaccine, and two patients had only one dose of the MMR vaccines.

The CDC says one dose of the MMR vaccine is 93 percent effective, while having two doses of the vaccine is 97 percent effective.

I know that there are people who, based on religious beliefs, don't believe in immunizing their kids. Perhaps when we colonize Mars they can all move there and can deal with the problem that they have created. Chickenpox has also greatly increased as well in a North Carolina school where many families claim religious exemptions from vaccines. Does the Bible say immunization is immoral?

A Catholic priest in Michigan is facing criticism after he presided over the funeral of 18-year-old Maison Hullibarger, a straight-A student who killed himself. The priest told mourners at the service that the teen may be (but not for sure?) kept out of heaven due to the way he died.

The parents want the priest who presided over his funeral removed after they say he disparaged and condemned their son during the service. Removal may not be enough.

- The "dark" side of the moon isn't really darker than the "light" side of the moon. But that far side gets colder at night. Data from the Apollo missions had already revealed that the moon's sunlit surface can climb to 260 degrees Fahrenheit (127 degrees Celsius) during the day and drop to minus 280 F (minus 173 C) at night. Maybe plan your space trip to another place in the sky.
- The children of lesbian women through conceived donations had no more behavioral or emotional problems than did a representative sample of others their age. Conclusion is that it is the quality of the parenting and not their sex creates stable children.

Even though no one has been conscripted into the United States military in more than 40 years, the Military Selective Service Act requires all American men to register when they turn 18. Men who do not register can be fined, imprisoned and denied services like federal student loans.

Judge Gray H. Miller of Federal District Court in the Southern District of Texas has ruled that because women can now serve in combat roles, it is unconstitutional for the United States to draft only men for the military.

He quoted the Supreme Court's 1981 ruling that the exclusion of women from the draft was fully justified because women then were not allowed to serve in combat. But the Pentagon abolished those restrictions in 2015, opening the way for women to serve in any military role for which they could qualify.

"While historical restrictions on women in the military may have justified past discrimination, men and women are now 'similarly situated for purposes of a draft or registration for a draft," Judge Miller wrote in his ruling. "If there ever was a time to discuss 'the place of women in the Armed Services,' that time has passed."

People who puff electronic cigarettes every day have twice the risk of heart attack, and the odds increase almost fivefold for those who use them along with traditional cigarettes, a new study suggests. "Using both products at the same time is worse than using either one separately," said senior study author Stanton Glantz director of the Center for Tobacco Control Research and Education at the University of California, San Francisco.

Most adults who vape continue to smoke tobacco cigarettes, he added. About 66 percent of the nearly 2,300 current e-cigarette users in the study also smoked tobacco cigarettes.

In response to a reader, you wrote on February 13th: "Don't you think whoever gets the most votes should win?" and followed with arguments against the Electoral College.

You ask how something passed in 1787 could have any application today, citing population changes. Every provision of the Constitution, as amended and interpreted, has applied to every legal precept in the United States throughout the intervening 232 years. The justification for the Electoral College is founded on principles, not

You offer the standard argument against the College, which is that it is inequitable, with the votes in some states "meaning more" or being "more important" than those in another. This is true and the Founders were well aware of it, but adopted the provision for many good reasons. You'll note that there is no mention of "democracy" anywhere in the Declaration or the Constitution, for good reason: the Founders intended to establish a Constitutional Republic, not a democracy. They did not want the floating whims of a majority to jeopardize the rights of every other person, nor a perpetual floating tally of who determines, interprets or implements the Law of the Land.

Bear in mind that this is the United States of America, drawing its claim to sovereignty from each and all of the colonies (later states). The structure of the Electoral College is a direct result of the guarantee of equality "among the states", with each having exactly two votes in the U.S. Senate. The Constitution might have never been adopted otherwise. The Electoral College is simply determined by adding the number of representatives and senators for each state. That is the fairest way to have equity in both the general population and all of the states in determining the presidency.

Bill Westmiller

Bill: Thank you for your explanation but I still don't like it. Keep your comments coming please, what our country is all about. Sheldon

To Sheldon

Re: Trump supporters.

Sheldon, your comments on the Electoral College are well supported. As any student of Constitution Law will see there are many clauses from 1787 that do not apply today. That is why scholars opine that the Constitution is a living document that creates and expands and yes even contracts through our history to better deal with human frailties.

Women did not have the right to vote for over 100 years plus. Breathe out. Slavery abolished. Breathe out. Nazis allowed to March in Skokie, Illinois. Breathe in. Citizen's United. Breathe in. When one group feels like we should not breathe any longer that is contrary to what our founding fathers attempted to design. These are simple basic ideas (TRUTHS) designed to absorb the trials, Chamber On The Mountain presents Cellist Zlatomir Fung, who recently captured First Prize at the 2018 Schoenfeld International String Competition, as well as the competition's sole performance engagement prize for a concert with Poland's Poznan Philharmonic Orchestra.

Mr. Fung will be accompanied by Pianist Janice Carissa, who was recently awarded the 2018 Career Grant Winner of Charlotte White's Salon De Virtuosi. Ms. Carissa was a Young Scholar of Lang Lang's International Music Foundation; the runner-up in the 2014 piano competition at the American Academy of Conducting at Aspen Music Festival and School; Star Performance Award Winner of the 2012 American Protégé International Music Talent Competition in New York; the runner-up in Indonesia Pusaka International Piano Competition in 2011; and the Top Prize Winner of the IBLA Foundation's 2006 International Piano Competition.

The program includes selections from 11 Capricci for Solo Cello by Joseph Dall'Abaco; Baal Shem, B. 47 by Ernest Bloch; Sequenza XIV for Cello by Luciano Berio; Premiere by Katherine Balch; Sonata in E Minor, Op. 38 by Johannes Brahms.

The Beatrice Wood Center for the Arts is pleased to present a performance by Jim Kimo West on Saturday, March 2, 2019 at pm. West, recognized as one of the world's top slack key guitarists, will perform selections from his Grammy-nominated album Moku Maluhia: Peaceful Island as well as classic works.

West is a prolific composer with a generous output of new, exciting slack key guitar originals. In addition he writes and produces music for too numerous to mention feature films and television shows.

Gretchen Simpson will visit the Ojai Library at 1 p.m. on Saturday, March 16, 2019, to deliver a talk entitled "Artistic Visions of a Growing America." Ms. Simpson comes to us via the Santa Barbara Museum of Art's Community Speakers Program.

A living artist views their surroundings with an eye that is both immediate and thoughtful. The result on their canvas can be a historical record which is informative as well as provocative. At times, however, a painting is also disturbing and cautionary. The art of this remarkable era reveals all the growing pains of a society rushing into its future.

A representative from the U.S. Census Bureau will visit the Ojai Library at 3 p.m. on Friday, March 15, 2019, to deliver a 2020 Census recruiting and application workshop.

The 2020 Census is hiring in Ojai and Ventura County! All are invited to attend an informal workshop at the Ojai Library to learn more about this opportunity. The workshop will include a presentation of the variety of jobs available, the qualifications required for 2020 Census work, and the method for submitting your application.

Beginning on March 10, the Ojai Library's Fiber Fun with Kids group will meet on Sundays from 2-3 p.m. for a weekly crochet workshop. This workshop will focus on basic crochet skills.

Crochet is both entertaining and educational. Participating in this type of crafting helps to improve problem solving, reading, and fine motor skills. Kids who take part in this program will learn to crochet different shapes that will help them to design and build all kinds of fun projects.

Kids age 8 and up will enjoy this engaging activity with a STEAM focus. Materials are provided by the Ojai Valley Library Friends & Foundation. Supplies are limited.

This program is free and open to the public. For additional information, contact Ron Solórzano, Regional Librarian, at (805) 218-9146.

The Ojai Library is located at 111 East Ojai Avenue in Ojai, CA. Hours of service are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. Friday through Sunday.

NOTICE OF AVAILABILITY

Subject: Notice of Availability of a Draft Environmental Impact Report Project: State Water Interconnection Project (SCH No. 2018031010)

Public Review Period: February 19, 2019 to April 5, 2019

This Notice of Availability has been prepared to notify responsible and trustee agencies and the public that the City of San Buenaventura (City of Ventura/ City), as the Lead Agency, has prepared an Environmental Impact Report (EIR) pursuant to the California Environmental Quality Act for implementation of the State Water Interconnection Project.

Project Description Summary: The project would enable delivery of State Water Project (SWP) water by wheeling water through the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California and Calleguas Municipal Water District water systems to the City of Ventura. The pipeline facilities (the "interconnection") would also facilitate direct delivery of SWP water to United Water Conservation District and direct or in-lieu delivery of SWP water to Casitas Municipal Water District. In addition, the interconnection would allow the City to deliver water to Calleguas during an outage of Calleguas' imported water supplies. The interconnection would be a pipeline used to transport water between Calleguas' and the City's distribution systems.

Project Location: The pipeline would be approximately 7 miles in length originating in the easterly portion of the City of Ventura (Henderson Road between South Saticoy Avenue and South Wells Road) and traversing southerly and easterly through unincorporated Ventura County to the southwestern end of the City of Camarillo (near the intersection of Camino Tierra Santa and Via Zamora). There are no hazardous waste facilities, waste property, or disposal sites pursuant to Section 65962.5 of the Government Code included as part of the project.

Environmental Impacts: The Draft EIR identified potentially significant environmental impacts to 1) Biological Resources, 2) Cultural Resources, 3) Geology and Soils, 4) Hazards and Hazardous Materials, 5) Noise, 6) Transportation, and 7) Tribal Cultural Resources. The preliminary conclusions of the Draft EIR indicate that no impacts were found to be significant and unavoidable.

Public Comments: The City of Ventura is soliciting the views of responsible and trustee agencies, as well as members of the public, including interested persons, organizations, and agencies, as to the analysis of the environmental information evaluated in the EIR. Comments on the Draft EIR will be used by the City Council when considering approval of the project and any related discretionary approvals. The EIR will also be used by other local, state, and federal agencies in considering the project, as well as permits and approvals needed for project implementation.

All comments on the Draft EIR are due no later than April 5, 2019. Please send your comments to the mailing address or email address shown below. Include a return address or email address and a contact name with your comments.

City of Ventura, Ventura Water

Betsy Cooper 501 Poli Street Ventura, CA 93002-0099 bcooper@cityofventura.ca.gov

Notice of Public Meeting: A public meeting will be held, as part of the City's regularly scheduled Water Commission meeting, to provide a brief overview of the State Water Interconnection Project environmental analysis. After the presentation, there will be time for questions. All comments on the Draft EIR must be submitted in writing. Written comment forms will be supplied for those who wish to submit comments at the meeting. All other written comments should be submitted to the address or email address indicated above at any time prior to the public comment due date of April 5, 2019. The meeting will be held as follows:

Date: February 26, 2019

Time: 5:30 P.M.

Upcoming community events with CAPS

CAPS Media continues to broadcast great member programming including a fascinating travel show and one covering environmental topics, current event programming and even short form dramatic films. Our members also cover many local events and performances. We continue to broadcast our award winning Thomas Fire Stories program with new episodes on the way.

There are some exciting annual events coming up that CAPS Media supports. These community events include the 31st Annual County Ventura St. Patrick's Day Parade and the Ventura Education Partnership's 18th Annual Festival of Talent. Both events showcase the best of what the Ventura community has to offer. Performers, artists, groups, non-profits and businesses are many of those who embrace and represent civic pride.

More screenings of The Perfect Firestorm - The Thomas Fire Story documentary will be held in Santa Paula on Saturday, March 9th at 1pm & 3pm at the Ventura County Agriculture Museum. This is a free event, open to the public, no reservations are required. The documentary is available for viewing on the CAPS Media website homepage at capsmedia.org.

Look for new videos on the channels from the Fire and Police Departments addressing safety and preparedness and job recruiting. Videos covering Sandbag Basics, Ready for the Rainy season, Fire Safe Council as well Ventura Police recruitment videos and Crime and Safety Update.

If you have an interest in community television or radio production, or are just curious, drop by the CAPS Media Center on the first Thursday of the month and learn how to become a member of CAPS and join our community of enthusiastic and engaged member/producers. Attend the March orientation class and become a member. For a low membership fee of $25 you will receive hands-on instruction in videography, video editing, radio production (additional fee required) and more. You will have access to our state-of-the-art facilities including our fully equipped studio and will receive invites to special events including our Producers Caucus. Don't miss out. Go to capsmedia.org for information or call 805-658-0500.

CAPS Media's mission is to create an engaged and informed community through participation in electronic media.

Gold Coast Concert Chorus and Ventura College Chorus premier works

The Gold Coast Concert Chorus (GCCC) combined with Ventura College Chorus, under the direction of Elizabeth Helms, will present their second concert of the 2018/2019 season on Saturday, March 16, 2019 at St. Columba's Episcopal Church in Camarillo. The concert will feature three remarkable choral works by renowned American composers. Frostiana: Seven Country Songs, a seven-movement suite of songs composed by Randall Thompson to selected poems of Robert Frost will be followed by Requiem written by Mack Wilberg for the legendary Mormon Tabernacle Choir in 2007. However, the centerpiece of the concert is Words, a short composition focused on bullying at school and on-line culture authored by Joan Szymko, an acclaimed composer and dynamic choral conductor based in the Pacific Northwest.

GCCC has jointly commissioned this piece as a part of choruses to benefit the programs and services of Chorus America.

Szymko explains the purpose and the structure of her composition, "Words attempts to both reveal and to reach three distinct groups: the bullied, the bullies and bystanders who enable bullying by doing nothing."

GCCC is a non- audition community chorus that brings together a diverse group of 100-plus singers who desire to expand their musical talents and share their love of the choral music with the community of Ventura County.

For more information, go to GoldCoast-Chorus.org or call 805-616-7269.

Two chances to meet your Ventura police officers

The community is invited to come together with Ventura Police Officers in a friendly, informal environment to discuss community issues, build relationships and enjoy a good cup of coffee for Coffee with a Cop which will be held at Starbucks located at 4722 Telephone Road, on March 14 from 9:00 am to 10:30 am.

Most contacts police officers have with the public happen during emergencies or emotional situations. Those situations are not always the most effective times for relationship building and some community members may feel that officers are unapproachable on the street or during the course of their duties. Coffee with a Cop breaks down barriers and allows time for relaxed one-on-one interaction.

Engaging the community in public safety efforts is a top priority of the Ventura Police Department. We share the community's concerns and make every effort to address them. We offer monthly opportunities at Community Council meetings to learn about crime trends and crime prevention. We also provide regular community meetings and neighborhood meetings upon request. Coffee with a Cop is an additional opportunity for residents to get to know the officers that serve Ventura.

The program aims to advance the practice of community policing improving relationthrough ships between police officers and community members one cup of coffee at a time. Coffee with a Cop provides an opportunity for community members to ask questions and learn more about the department's service. There is no formal agenda, just a casual opportunity to voice concerns and share ideas. This is a no host event.

The Ventura Police Department and Ventura Police Community Foundation are partnering with the Midtown Community Council and Pacific View Mall for Food Truck Friday on March 15, from 5:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. at the Pacific View Mall parking lot nearest to Trader Joes. The event features nearly 20 food, dessert and coffee trucks. Live music, face painting, a patrol car and Ventura Police K9s will be featured at this family friendly event.

Community members are invited to stop by the Ventura Police booth to visit with Ventura Police Officers and K9s and learn about the efforts of the Ventura Police Community Foundation in supporting public safety. Important safety information will be available and glow sticks will be provided to children while supplies last.

Food Truck Friday has helped support the Adopt-A-School Program which has provided beautification projects through a portion of event profits and community partnerships since the Food Truck event began in October 2012.

Residents are encouraged to learn more about their neighborhood Community Council. Ventura has seven neighborhood councils and any resident; business owner or property owner can join their area group. Ventura Police crime and safety updates are provided at each of the monthly community council meetings offering an opportunity for residents to get to know their local patrol officers. For more information please call 805-339-4317.

Meredith comes to the City from local non-profit Downtown Ventura Partners.

City of Ventura names Safe & Clean Program Manager

The City of Ventura announced that Meredith Hart has been named Safe & Clean Program Manager within the City Manager's Office. This selection fills a key management position in the City and supports the City Council's goal to develop and implement an action plan to enhance the safe and clean initiative objectives.

Mayor Matt LaVere said, "One of the City Council's most important priorities in 2019 is supporting our Safe & Clean Initiative. That is why I am so excited to have Meredith Hart join the City team as our new Safe & Clean Manager. Meredith's impressive background and strong work ethic make her the ideal person to lead the City team as we continue our work to open a 24/7 homeless shelter, while at the same time continuing our extensive efforts to make Ventura the safer and cleaner city we all desire."

In her new role, Meredith will focus on achieving Council's goal to open a yearround homeless shelter, creating educational campaigns on Safe & Clean initiatives, offering outreach opportunities for the community, addressing blight and cleanliness issues, and concentrating on the improvement of private/public partnerships to improve services and reduce homelessness. As one component to the multi-departmental focus on Safe & Clean, Meredith will work closely to encourage cohesiveness and collaboration throughout the City.

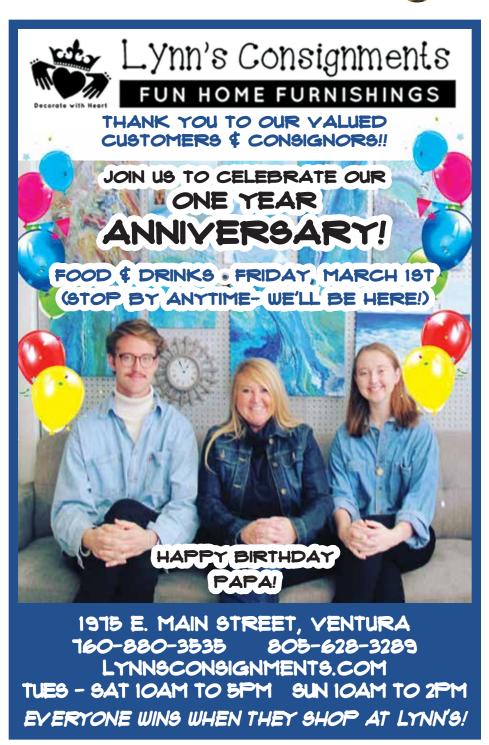

Meredith comes to the City from nine years as Deputy Director with local non-profit Downtown Ventura Partners (DVP). During that time, Meredith was instrumental in the implementation of the Downtown Ambassadors, the Family Reconnection Program and has had an active role in the Winter Warming shelters, Community Intervention Court, the Patrol Task Force, the Downtown Safe and Clean Debris Removal Team and the annual Point-in-Time Homeless Count.

Meredith is a graduate from the University of Southern California and is a proud alumni of Buena High School.

"I am energized to be a part of the City of Ventura team and to help guide the City to achievements in reducing homelessness, creating safer and cleaner public spaces, and encouraging the community to become part of the solutions. We're right at the peak of being able to do so much good,"

Protecting our water supply and securing our future together

by Matt LaVere

Mayor, City of San Buenaventura

The City of Ventura and its water customers have relied on the Ventura River as a primary source of drinking water for more than a century. Today, however, the region's water supply is changing as the Ventura River watershed faces new, complex challenges. To protect our local water resources and safeguard the watershed for the future, we must change our approach to managing it now.

Statewide drought conditions and the impacts of climate change have created shifts in our watershed and a strain on our region's already limited water supply. At the same time, the demand for water is increasing as the Ventura River watershed's users are multiplying. Coupled together, these factors have placed the watershed under increased pressure and at risk.

As long-standing environmental stewards, the City of Ventura has proactively made conservation a way of life by reducing our water use and investing in drought resilient programs such as recycled water, infrastructure upgrades, water-efficient best practices and diversification of our supply portfolio. Today, Ventura's water customers use 30% less water than they did 20 years ago, despite reasonable population growth. I'm incredibly proud of this track record and our impressive progress. But the reality is - we need to do more to protect and preserve the watershed, and we can't do it alone. The City represents only a small portion of the total water used by more than 100 agencies, businesses, farmers and individuals who also use the watershed.

In 2014, Santa Barbara Channelkeeper, a non-profit environmental organization, filed a lawsuit seeking to curtail the City's water rights limiting its use of the Ventura River - one element of the interconnected watershed we all rely on. While we understand the overarching concern of diminishing water supplies and its impact on both our community and vital habitats for species like the steelhead trout, the original suit from Channelkeeper is not a viable path forward. The litigation arbitrarily targets just one user, the City of Ventura, to shoulder the responsibility for hundreds of other water users and focuses solely on one source of water, the Ventura River. Simply put - it's an ineffective and short-sighted solution, and we need a better one.

The City of Ventura is proposing a long-term solution to protect the watershed and those who depend on it. By collaborating with all the local water interests, evaluating the entire interconnected system holistically and determining the legal water rights of each user, we can ensure that these complex challenges are addressed in a comprehensive and enforceable way.

As Mayor, I believe if we work together, we can build on our existing framework that not only safeguards our water future but also protects the precious ecosystems in the Ventura River watershed. The City remains committed to a locally-driven and collaborative approach that protects, properly manages and sustains the watershed to do just that.

Design in the Making runs through May 19, 2019 and will feature the Museum of Ventura County's architectural archives opened to the public for the very first time, and local built and un-built projects highlighting the evolving conversation inherent within the design process with a window into the future.

"Ventura County's architectural diversity creates a landscape of historic relevance that defines the vernacular of our culture," said Anna Bermudez, curator for the Museum. "The exhibit will present a cross-section of styles that reflect the influences of immigration and its cultural impact on housing and community buildings throughout the decades and throughout the county.

Accompanying the exhibition, programs throughout the duration of the exhibit include live interactive design charrettes where Designers-In-Residence

The Museum of Ventura County and Community will come together to create solutions to local place making issues. The AIAVC will host a Scholarship Fundraiser to benefit students planning on pursuing careers in architecture, and to announce the 2019 Scholarship Recipients, Friday, May 3, 2019 from 6-9 p.m. followed by a free activity, "Kid Draw Architecture," on Sunday, May 5, 2019 from 2-4pm. For more information visit AIAVC or call 805-749-6809.

> This exhibit is made possible through the generous sponsorship of Ashley & Vance Engineering, Coast Reprographics, Mary Follenweider AIA, Neel Lighting, and Staples Construction. Additional support provided by the City of Ventura, Ventura County, and private funders.

> Established in 1965, the AIAVC is a member-driven organization providing advocacy, leadership, and resources for architects. Its mission is to promote personal and corporate growth, strength and sustainability of the membership as architects and citizens of Ventura County. This is done by Engaging, Encouraging and Educating the membership and the community at large. For more information visit AIAVC or call 805-749-6809.

Dr. Joseph Cahill poses next to artists rendering of improvements to Ventura Botanical Gardens

Membership event held for VBG

On a recent Saturday, at Spice Topia in Ventura, Ventura's Botanical Gardens held a membership event from 11 am to 3 pm.

"There are many aspects to the botanical gardens. It's a place to explore, it's a place of rejuvenation and relaxation, and at the same time, there is an educational component," said Joe Cahill, Executive Director. Over 3000 plants are now in the garden's collection, and that is scheduled to double in the next year," he added.

Annual membership to the Gardens is $45 per year and EBT cardholders get free membership, with all the benefits of paid membership. There are free guided tours that members can signup for, and eighteen and under are free of cost. Educational groups and their group leaders are always free.

The executive order on retirement savings

by Jayson Cohen

American Legacy Solutions

President Donald Trump signed an executive order Friday, August 31, that proposes asking for reviews on changing certain rules for tax-deferred retirement savings such as 401(k)s and individual retirement accounts, or IRAs. Trump signed the order during a scheduled visit to Charlotte, N.C., and asked the Treasury Department to review the rules for mandatory withdrawals from 401(k)s and IRAs. These mandatory withdrawals are better known as RMDs, and they are required in the year the owner of these tax-deferred accounts turns 70 1/2. According to the Wall Street Journal, the White House is promoting these actions to better prepare the workforce for retirement.

The executive order has tasked the Labor Department to consider permitting small businesses to join together in offering combined 401(k) plans, as detailed by POLITICO. Currently, the Labor Department does not allow unrelated small businesses to offer joint open multiple employer 401(k) plans. The executive order is requesting the Labor Department to search for ways to decrease administrative and paperwork requirements that might be prohibitive to small businesses offering savings plans.

These open multiple employer plans would supposedly help more small businesses to offer their employees savings

Exercise is fun and healthy

Exercise is safe for almost everyone. In fact, studies show that people with arthritis, high blood pressure, or heart disease benefit from regular exercise and physical activity. In some cases, exercise actually can improve some of these conditions.

Your heart keeps your body running. As you grow older, some changes in the heart and blood vessels are normal, but others are caused by disease.

Choices you might make every day can contribute to heart disease.

To keep your heart healthy, be more physically active. Aim for 30 minutes of moderate-intensity activity on most or all days of the week. It doesn't have to be done all at once—10-minute periods will do.

If you smoke, quit. It's never too late to get some benefit from quitting smoking.

Follow a heart-healthy diet. Choose low-fat foods and those that are low in salt. Eat plenty of fruits and vegetables, and foods high in fiber.

Keep a healthy weight. Your healthcare provider can check your weight and height to learn your BMI (body mass index). A BMI of 25 or higher means you are at risk for heart disease, as well as diabetes and other health conditions.

You can take small steps to prevent or delay the onset of type 2 diabetes by reaching and maintaining a healthy weight, moving more, and making smart food choices. If you already have diabetes, exercise and physical activity can help manage the disease and help you stay healthy longer.

Put away the remote control—get up to change the TV channel. Stretch during commercial breaks.

Walk around when you talk on the phone.

Take more steps by parking the car farther away from stores, movie theaters, or your office.

Learn more about preventing and managing diabetes from the National Diabetes Education Program.

Exercise is safe for almost everyone. For people with arthritis, exercise can reduce joint pain and stiffness. It can also help with losing weight, which reduces stress on the joints.

Flexibility exercises can help keep joints moving, relieve stiffness, and give you more freedom of movement for everyday activities. Examples of flexibility exercises include upperand lower-body stretching, yoga, and tai chi.

Strengthening exercises will help you maintain or add to your muscle strength. Strong muscles support and protect joints. Weight-bearing exercises, such as weight lifting, fall into this category. You can use bottles of water or soup cans if you don't have weights.

Endurance exercises make the heart and arteries healthier and may lessen swelling in some joints. Try low-impact options such as swimming and biking.

If you have a chronic condition, before beginning any exercise program, talk with your health care provider about the best activities for you to try.

You may need to avoid some types of activity when joints are swollen or inflamed. If you have pain in a specific joint area, for example, you may need to focus on another area for a day or Osteoporosis is a disease that weakens bones to the point where they break easily—most often in the hip, spine, and wrist. Osteoporosis is more common in women, but men also have this disease.

The good news is there are things you can do at any age to prevent weakened bones, such as including regular weight-bearing exercise in your life, eating foods rich in calcium and vitamin D, stopping smoking, and limiting how much alcohol you drink.

Your bones and muscles will be stronger if you are physically active. Weight-bearing exercises, done three to four times a week, are best for preventing osteoporosis. Walking, jogging, playing tennis, and dancing are examples of weight-bearing exercises. Try some strengthening and balance exercises too. They may help you avoid falls, which could cause a broken bone.

All about Shingles

You probably don't remember having chickenpox as a child or getting a chickenpox vaccine.

If you have had chickenpox, you are at risk of shingles, and you won't soon forget the severe pain it can cause.

The first sign of shingles is usually pain, which can be severe. After a few days, a person with shingles may develop a rash and fluid-filled blisters. Shingles can also cause burning, numbness, itching, and sensitivity to touch.

If you have had chickenpox, you can get shingles at some point during your lifetime. Almost one in three Americans will get shingles at least once, and the risk increases with age.

There are some medications available that can improve some of the shingles symptoms. These antiviral medicines do not cure shingles, but they can shorten the duration and lessen the severity of the illness.

A shingles vaccine can lower the risk of getting the illness. A new vaccine, Shingrix, was approved in late 2017 and is much more effective than previous vaccines.

If you think you may have shingles, visit your doctor as soon as possible to get treatment. If you haven't had shingles, or even if you have, get a vaccine to give yourself the best protection from the illness.

Executive order on retirement plans because of the decreased expenses incurred if the plans are jointly administered by several businesses. As reported by POLITICO, Preston Rutledge, assistant secretary of the Employee Benefits Security Administration at the Labor Department, said "Basically, we will be trying to find policy ideas that will help make joining a 410(k) plan a more attractive proposition for small employers."

Currently, holders of tax-deferred retirement accounts are required to begin minimum withdrawals from the accounts beginning the year they turn 70 1/2. These RMDs are predetermined amounts in a table set by the IRS according to age and must be taken on an annual basis. The purpose of the withdrawals is for the government to start collecting the taxes owed on these accounts, which have enjoyed tax-free status until then

According to CNBC, the reviews would be of the life expectancy tables from the IRS for the purpose of updating the tables, which may allow retirees to withdraw lower RMDs from their tax-deferred retirement accounts. These tables were last updated in 2002, and the average life expectancy has risen since then from under 77 to 78 1/2, as derived from data compiled from the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis and noted by CNBC.

This would be helpful to retirees because the tax hit of these withdrawals can be spread out more over a longer period of time. Taking large withdrawals can significantly increase income levels, which translates to a higher tax bracket for many. These smaller distributions can also help those who have inherited tax-deferred accounts and are taking distributions.

If the rules for open multiple employer plans are relaxed, small business owners could join with other, dissimilar small business and implement savings plans for their employees. That could help these business owners attract more skilled employees because of the retirement savings plans added to their employee benefit packages.

Cutting the ribbon is City of Ventura Mayor Matt LaVere surrounded by people that made it happen.

Ribbon cutting held for Riverside Apartments

A ribbon cutting ceremony was held Wednesday, February 20, for Riverside Street Apartments, a new 23-unit affordable housing community located at 791 Riverside Drive, Ventura. The project was developed by W & J Investments, LLC and built by Judson Builders, Inc. of Ventura.

The community is composed of two- and three- bedroom apartments with an onsite community center featuring computer stations and a large screen TV. Outdoor amenities include a playground and mini-soccer field. Constructed sustainability, the project is built with zero net energy consumption due to its solar water heating and solar electrical generation as well as a ground water recharge system. Additionally, the community connects to the Ventura River Bike Trail which is located right behind the property.

Project collaborators represented at the ceremony were W & J Investments, City of Ventura, City of Ventura Planning Department, J. E. Armstrong Architects, Housing Authority of San Buenaventura, Integrity Housing, Chase Bank, Judson Builders, FPI Management and Ventura Chamber of Commerce.

"One of the City of Ventura's most critical priorities is to create affordable housing options for its residents," said Mayor Matt LaVere. "This beautiful project, a collaboration of multiple partners, brings us closer to achieving that goal."

Rotary Club of Ventura South to host Mardi Gras Fundraiser

The Rotary Club of Ventura South will host its 4th annual Mardi Gras fundraiser in support of Turning Point Foundation on Sunday, March 3. The gala event begins at 3:00 p.m. at the Tower Club, 300 E. Esplanade Drive in Oxnard, and will feature traditional New Orleans jazz and food, silent and live auctions of exciting items, and a view from the foothills to the Channel Islands that only the Tower Club can provide.

For over 30 years, Turning Point Foundation, a local Ventura County non-profit (Tax ID #0213467), has operated community-based mental health programs. Turning Point's programs address the full range of personal needs, including a homeless shelter to meet necessary physical and safety requirements, supported housing to provide decent, affordable housing for those permanently disabled by mental health issues, and rehabilitation and socialization centers to provide meaningful, productive activities, companionship and a sense of purpose.

Because of the myths and stigmas attached to mental illness, many people struggle with its effects alone and unaware that their symptoms can be controlled by medication and the functional problems they experience can be addressed through rehabilitation and support services. Turning Point works with clients to reverse the devastating effects of their illnesses, such as job loss, homelessness, isolation, addiction, incarceration, and even thoughts of suicide.

Tickets for the event are $50, and there is also a variety of sponsorships available for businesses and individuals. Contact Suki Sir at Turning Point Foundation (ssir@tpf-vc.org / 805-947-5400). Proceeds from the event will go directly to Turning Point Foundation and other charitable causes supported by Ventura Rotary South. As they say in New Orleans, "Laissez Les bon Temps Roulez" (Let the Good Times Roll)!

The Rotary Club of Ventura South is one of more than 35,000 Rotary clubs with 1.2 million members around the world. Rotary members believe that we have a shared responsibility to take action on our world's most persistent issues. Our clubs work together to promote peace; fight disease; provide clean water, sanitation, and hygiene; save mothers and children; support education; and grow local economies. Rotary Ventura South meets at noon every Monday at the Tower Club in Oxnard (300 E. Esplanade Drive, 22nd Floor). Visitors are always welcome. For more information, visit venturasouthrotary.org.

Sustainability Now News

Friends of the Ventura River: a dedicated coalition ensuring our community's sustainability

by Maryann Ridini Spencer (@MaryannRidiniSpencer)

The Ventura River watershed, made up of the Santa Ynez Mountains, chaparral, and the cities of Ojai and Ventura, is comprised of approximately 226 square miles with mountains and foothills ranging from 6,010 feet to sea level. Located within this watershed is the Ventura River, which flows about 16.2 miles from the confluence of Matilija Creek and North Fork Matilija Creek to the Ventura River Estuary at the Pacific Ocean.

For the community, the fact that more than half of the Ventura River watershed land area is undeveloped and protected terrain holds a special meaning for residents and visitors alike. The beautiful, wide open spaces and cherished vistas of this natural habitat afford people living in city neighborhoods a chance to connect to the native, rural environment.

In 1972, biologist Mark Capelli, who sought to restore the steelhead to the Ventura River, founded Friends of the Ventura River ("Friends"), an organization which has since evolved into a coalition of individuals, government entities and community groups who have joined together to protect and enhance the Ventura River watershed to ensure quality of life, recreational access and the future sustainability of the area. The group is comprised of non-profits, local, federal and state agencies, community groups, businesses, and individuals. It currently meets irregularly to share ideas, projects & discuss potential solutions to problematic issues.

Friend's efforts to express the community's appreciation for the River and surrounding land led to a National Park Service Technical grant from the NPS Rivers, Trails and Conservation Assistance Program. The grant allowed Friends to develop a trail map and led to the formation of the Ventura River Parkway Trail (which includes the Ventura River Trail and the Ojai Valley Trail). On June 7, 2014, the trail was designated as a National Recreation Trail. (http://www.nrtdatabase.org/trailDetail.php?recordID=3866)

"The dedication, hands down, was one of our biggest accomplishments to date, and accompanied the cooperative efforts of the Ventura Land Trust, the City, and County of Ventura, the Ojai Valley Land Conservancy, and others who worked diligently to remove trash and arundo from the Ventura River," said Kathy Bremer, Secretary. "There are roughly a little over 1200 trails designated as national recreation trails. People love to walk, hike, cycle, and bird watch along the Parkway and adjacent land trust trails and research shows how essential it is for our overall health to have a place in nature where we can get-away and immerse ourselves for a time."

Brainstorming within community to discuss concerns and pool resources and contacts is another vital aspect of Friends.

"The Ventura River Parkway has long had a problem with trash and human waste," said Bremer. "So, when our group meets, we tackle issues like this, and we work together about what we can do to remedy issues that impact on our water quality. We essentially come together share information, find out who's doing what, what concerns there are, and we work to find solutions together."

Since its founding, community leaders such as Patagonia's Founder Yvon Chouinard got involved, and today, Friends of the Ventura River also partners with organizations like the Ventura Land Trust, California State Parks, Surfrider, the Sierra Club, SOAR, Ojai Valley Land Conservancy, Ventura Watershed Council, Wishtoyo Foundation, Santa Barbara Channelkeeper, and other organizations (full list is available at friendsofventurariver.org).

Through the Friends of the Ventura River quarterly newsletter, community news and information is distributed alerting the public about a myriad of activities including River and Beach Clean-ups, water happenings and events, watershed studies, city initiatives and programs, and more.

"We encourage the public to get involved with our mission and to sign up for our newsletter to stay informed on work in the watershed, community meetings, events & volunteer opportunities. Every individual makes a difference when it comes to ensuring the longevity and sustainability of the natural areas surrounding our beautiful community," said Bremer.

United Way thanks the volunteers

United Way of Ventura County would like to thank the 400 volunteers who fanned out across the community recently as part of the 2019 Ventura County Point-In-Time Homeless Count.

The Ventura County Continuum of Care (VC CoC) joined with UWVC and many other community organizations to conduct the annual count and individual surveys, a requirement to receive U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development funding. Volunteer teams spread out through Ventura, Camarillo, Ojai, Santa Paula, Thousand Oaks, Fillmore, Oxnard, Simi Valley, Port Hueneme, Moorpark and unincorporated areas on Jan. 22, with follow-up taking place at service sites throughout the week.

"Our goal is to help all Ventura County residents reach their full potential in education, financial stability, and health," said Eric Harrison, CEO of United Way of Ventura County. "Through the surveys volunteers collected, we find out more about what resources are needed most and where they can be directed. We're so grateful to everyone who came out and did a wonderful job."

UWVC has hosted volunteer sign-ups on its www.volunteerventuracounty.org website over the last three years. Teams went out in the early morning through mid-day to places where unsheltered homeless persons are known to gather to conduct the count

The Ventura County Continuum of Care will release results of the count in the coming months.

"The Point-In-Time count is an important annual activity that helps inform the VC CoC of the needs of persons who are experiencing homelessness," said Tara Carruth, County Executive Office, Ventura County Continuum of Care. "This snapshot data of one day of homelessness assists with evaluating and monitoring trends in demographics and needs of the population. Volunteer participation is a great value in this process since the count data results in State and Federal funding for housing and services for homeless individuals and families. Thank you to all of the volunteers who assisted with this year's efforts."

Since 1945, United Way of Ventura County has advanced the common good by creating opportunities for a better life for all. Our focus is on education, income and health, because these are the building blocks for a good quality of life. We support local services and programs that are more than just 'stop gap' measures, but rather solutions that help create lasting change. We invite everyone to be part of the change by giving, advocating and volunteering. When we work together in common purpose, we LIVE UNITED. For more information about United Way of Ventura County, visit www. vcunitedway.org.

Our Ventura TV surpassed 900 video/tv productions

Our Ventura TV is an award-winning, weekly talk-show television series broadcast on Ventura cable channel 6 TV and also published on OurVentura.com as well as on social media networks. For over ten years the programs have been, and still are, primarily about nonprofits, local leaders, artists and organizations who contribute in some way to the Ventura County community. Anyone who contributes to the theme of "People doing good things in Ventura County" and the surrounding area is welcome to be interviewed as a guest.

The show's executive producer, George Alger, stated, "We started producing in-studio cable TV segments in 2008. In 2010 we also posted them online. Since then, we've posted over 900 segments that were created in and out of the studio and each week a new show is broadcast on Ventura cable channel 6 and posted online."

In-studio interview productions are done in association with CAPS Media Center in Ventura, which broadcasts the programming for channels 6 and 15 cable television.

The Our Ventura TV production team includes on-air hosts and a behind-the-camera crew who bring the interviews and other segments onto local TV as well as online. Our Ventura TV Host, Sandra Siepak stated that the mission of the series is to "Connect our viewers with those making a difference for the better here in Ventura County."

Show Director, Michelle Hoover, added that, "There are no fees for guests who speak about nonprofit or noncommercial messages." The weekly cable TV series is sponsored Nonprofit Fire, Skyworks Marketing and GWC Productions. The Our Ventura TV team, including interview hosts and behind-the-camera technical crew contribute to the show's success.

Additionally, the production team also creates video and TV segments for commercial messages and businesses in the community. Paid video and TV production services include:

- * TV Commercials
- * Business Interviews
- * Facility Tour Videos
- * Product Videos
- * "How To" Videos
- * Public Service Announcements
- * Infomercials
- * Documentaries

Our Ventura TV shows are broadcast every week on Ventura cable channel 6. The majority of shows feature guests who are interviewed about their expertise and/or community activities. Additionally, there are music, theatrical and other entertainment productions.

Police Reports

by Cindy Summers

Police reports are provided to us by the Ventura Police Department and are not the opinions of the Ventura Breeze. All suspects mentioned are assumed to be innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Vandalism Arrests

On February 9, at approximately 4:45pm, the Ventura Police Department Command Center received a call from a security guard who reported that he caught two subjects in the process of spray painting the side of a building at 2975 Johnson Dr., the former Toys R Us. The security guard said the two subjects fled from the area on foot, although a vehicle that possibly belonged to them was still parked near the building.

Officers responded to the scene and upon arrival observed two subjects, later identified as 22 year old Oxnard resident Edgar Cardenas and 23 year old Ventura resident Victor Rivas, walking a short distance away and detained them. Cardenas and Rivas matched the description of the two subjects given to dispatch by the security guard.

During a search of Cardenas and Rivas, officers found them to be in possession of graffiti tools and there was physical evidence that indicated they had recently been using spray paint. Inside the vehicle, which belonged to Cardenas, officers found additional evidence showing them to be involved in the vandalism.

Both were arrested for felony vandalism for causing more than $400 in damage, possession of graffiti tools and conspiracy to commit vandalism. Rivas had an additional charge of being in possession of a controlled substance.

A review of the Ventura County Superior Court website shows that Cardenas has a prior conviction in 2017 for carrying a loaded firearm. Rivas did not show to have any prior convictions.

The public can report damage from graffiti by leaving a message on the City of Ventura's Graffiti Removal Hotline number at 654-7805.

Vehicle Pursuit and Arrest

On February 15, at approximately 12:45pm, Ventura Police detectives received information from detectives with VenCATT (Ventura County Combined Auto Theft Task Force) of a stolen vehicle in the area of Mills Road and Main Street in the city of Ventura. Detectives with the Ventura Police Street Crimes Unit located the vehicle in the area and requested patrol officers to help stop the vehicle.

The suspect, 25 year old Camarillo 101 freeway south towards Oxnard and exited at Ventura Road in Oxnard. While on the off-ramp Ventura PD patrol officers caught up to the vehicle. The Officers attempted a traffic stop on the stolen vehicle near the Collection in Oxnard. Instead of stopping the suspect led officers on a vehicle pursuit that ended at the corner of Forest Park Blvd. and Vineyard Ave. At that point, Cantero ran from the vehicle and led officers on a brief foot pursuit ending with the Cantero being caught. Neither Cantero nor the officers were injured during the incident.

Cantero was arrested for Felony evading arrest in a vehicle, possession of a stolen vehicle, and possession of a controlled substance.

A review of the Ventura County Superior Court website shows that Cantero was arrested 14 times in 2018 for several theft and drug-related charges.

Residential Burglary Arrest

On February 16, at approximately 12:30pm, the Ventura Police Department Command Center received a 911 call of an interrupted residential burglary that just occurred at an apartment in the 6600 block of Thille St. The victim arrived home and when he entered the apartment, confronted the suspect who had entered the apartment by forcing open a locked window. The suspect, later identified as 24 year old Ventura resident John Pritchard, was known to the victim as the relative of a roommate, but knew that Pritchard did not have permission to be inside the apartment. Pritchard fled from the apartment on foot.

Officers responding to the call saw Pritchard on foot several blocks away and detained him. He was found to be in possession of property taken from the apartment. Pritchard was positively identified and arrested.

Pritchard was arrested for burglary. No one was injured as a result of this

A review of the Ventura County Superior Court website shows that Pritchard has prior arrests in 2019 and 2017 for narcotics, which resulted in a pretrial diversion in accordance with Prop 47, and a conviction for petty theft

Sexual Assault and Burglary

On February 16, at approximately 1:30am, the Ventura Police Department Command Center received a 911 call from an adult female reporting that she had just been sexually assaulted inside her residence in the 500 block of Howard St. The suspect, later identified as 33 year old Oxnard resident Omar Velazquez-Lara, who was known to the victim had entered the residence through an unlocked door and fled after assaulting the victim. He also made threats towards the victim. Officers checked the area, but were unable to locate him.

Detectives received information that Velazquez-Lara was going to the Ventura Harbor with plans to meet with the victim. Detectives observed his vehicle in the 1500 block of Spinnaker Dr. and conducted a traffic stop. Velazquez-Lara was taken into custody without incident.

After being taken to the Ventura Police Department, Velazquez-Lara was arrested for forcible rape, burglary and dissuading a victim.

Arrest for Manufacturing Heroin, Possession for Sales of a Controlled Substance, and Maintaining a Place for Illegal Drugs Use.

On February 19, at 2:45am, officers resident Daniel Cantero, entered the conducted proactive foot patrols in the 3300 block of E. Main St. During this time they saw a male, later identified as 27 year old Christopher Diaz, acting suspicious and trying to hide from them in an alley. Officers contacted Diaz and detained him.

During the investigation that followed it was determined Diaz had a room at a local motel which he was using to manufacture larger quantities of heroin. It was further established that he possessed the illegal drugs for future sales. Additionally, Diaz was allowing others in his room to engage in the unlawful use of controlled substances. Diaz was arrested for the above charges and booked in Ventura County Jail.

Arson Arrest

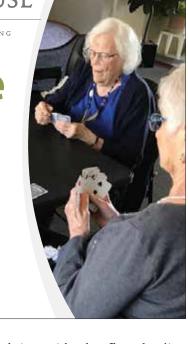

On November 29, 2018 at approximately 5:25 pm, a fire was reported in a storage room at Target located at 245 S. Mills Rd, Ventura. The suspect was Ventura Townehouse

9:55am, received a report of a vessel sinking in the keys. Officers responded, pumped out the 16ft electric craft and towed it to the boatyard for 11:15pm, contacted 3 fishermen on an 8ft inflatable in the Harbor entrance for multiple hoopnetting and safety violations. Their voyage was terminated; they were escorted to the L/R due to lack of navigation lights and no lifejackets.

4:53pm, received a report of a local transient trespassing in the restrooms of Ventura Isle Marina. Officers responded with Ventura Police to the call. The transient was searched for contraband and issued a no trespass order.

9:15am, received a report of an individual unconscious in the 1597 Spinnaker restrooms. Officers responded and found the individual unresponsive. Eventually the individual was awakened and removed from the restroom. He is a local transient who is under a no trespass order and he left the area quickly.

8:37pm, received a report of a flare sighting with the flare landing near the intersection at Harbor Blvd and Olivas. A search was conducted, including utilizing night-vision to search the area for a disabled vessel, but none found.

1:10pm, received a report of a hazard-to-navigation, a large tree branch caught underneath a sailboat in VWM. Officers responded but were unable to dislodge the object, a dive service was called to remove the object.

8:57am, received a report of a sailing vessel bow line unsecured at VIM end-tie. Officers responded and re-secured the vessel to its berthing.

3:25pm, officers observed and reported several oiled grebes near the launch ramp to sea bird rescue. They assisted capturing the birds for oil/tar removal.

2:55pm, received a report of a pedal boat besieged by the wind near the launch ramp. Officers responded in the fireboat, found the pedal boat, took the two passengers aboard and towed the vessel to the rental dock in the Harbor village

10:40am, dispatched to a man slumped over his steering wheel near 1691 Spinnaker. Officers responded and found a 70 year old unresponsive but with a pulse. Eventually he regained consciousness and was taken by ambulance to local hospital for further evaluation by AMR.

11:50am, received a report of a vessel taking on water at VHV. Officers responded in the vehicle with a portable de-watering pump. After a quick assessment officers de-watered approximately 80 gallons of water out of the vessel forward hatch, but were unable to get to the bilge. A bilge pump was discovered and officers were able to get it working and dewatered the boat.

3.59pm dispatched to an assault victim at Marina Park. Officers staged in Boat 19 at the city dock to Marina Park. The patient was treated at the scene by AMR and Ventura fire department.

Two members of the U.S. House of Representatives re-introduced a bill that would make malicious acts of animal cruelty a felony nationwide. A person convicted of the crime could face a fine or up to seven years in prison, or

The bill, known as the Preventing Animal Cruel and Torture (PACT) Act, is co-sponsored by Democrat Ted Deutch and Republican Vern Buchanan. PACT would criminalize "crushing, burning, drowning, suffocating and impaling animals." The measure would also address bestiality and other attempts to sexually exploit animals.

The legislation contains exceptions for hunting, veterinary care, and actions necessary to protect life or property from a serious threat from an animal.

The Humane Society Legislative Fund supports the measure, noting that while most states consider certain acts of animal cruelty a felony, some penalties are still considered misdemeanors. The bill earned 284 bipartisan co-sponsors and more than 200 law enforcement endorsements in the previous session of Congress.

Larger-brained dogs outperform smaller dogs on measures of executive functions—a set of cognitive processes that are necessary for controlling and coordinating other cognitive abilities and behaviors. In particular, bigger dogs have better short-term memory and self-control than smaller ones, according to the study in Animal Cognition.

"The jury is out on why, necessarily, brain size might relate to cognition," says lead study author Daniel Horschler, an anthropology doctoral student and member of the University of Arizona's Arizona Canine Cognition Center. "We think of it as probably a proxy for something else going on, whether it's the number of neurons that matters or differences in connectivity between neurons. Nobody's really sure yet, but we're interested in figuring out what those deeper things are."

Canine brain size does not seem to be associated with all types of intelligence, however. Horschler found that brain size didn't predict a dog's performance on tests of social intelligence, which the researchers measured by testing each dog's ability to follow human pointing gestures. It also wasn't associated with a dog's inferential and physical reasoning ability.

The study's findings mirror what scientists have previously found to be true in primates—that brain size is associated with executive functioning, but not other types of intelligence.

Horschler's study uses data from more than 7,000 purebred domestic dogs from 74 different breeds. Breed standards offered estimates of brain size.

Acne plagues many teenagers and even adults, but did you know that animals get pimples too? Dr. Jason Pieper, a board-certified veterinary dermatologist at the University of Illinois Veterinary Teaching Hospital in Urbana, sees a few cases of pet acne every year.

Acne occurs when a hair follicle becomes plugged. Hair follicles lie within the skin. They cradle the root of a hair shaft, which grows out of the middle of the follicle, and supply the hair with protective oils from attached glands.

The chin is the most common location for acne in dogs and cats. Sometimes the acne can be seen around the lips and muzzle. It may appear red, brown, or black (like a blackhead), or it may look like pustules (pimples).

One theory is that the acne is a result of damage to the hair follicle, for example, when the pet drinks water from its bowl and repeatedly bumps its chin. A damaged hair follicle may become plugged with oils.

To treat acne, it is important to keep the area clean and dry. The chin and muzzle area are often wet from drinking, which can predispose that area to reoccurring acne. Pet owners can use a

New Year's resolutions for the pet owner

I will schedule my pet's yearly wellness exam with her veterinarian. I will ensure that my pet remains up to date on her vaccinations and invest in another year of flea, tick and heartworm preventative for her.

I will speak with my veterinarian about the healthiest diet for my pet and work to feed him a high-quality diet. I will avoid overfeeding him, understanding that obesity in dogs and cats leads to many health problems and a reduced quality of life.

I will give my pet an informal in-home exam every month, being sure to look inside her ears, examine her eyes for discharge or other changes, lift her tail to ensure she has a clean and healthy rear end, and pet her carefully all over to check for lumps, bumps or wounds. I will contact my veterinarian promptly if I notice anything new or amiss.

I will invest in new toys for my pet. Even though he chews most of them up, I will find a way to incorporate chew toys into my budget if these are his favorite. When I cannot meet his demand for

I will clean up after my pet so that her litterbox or yard is clean and free of feces.

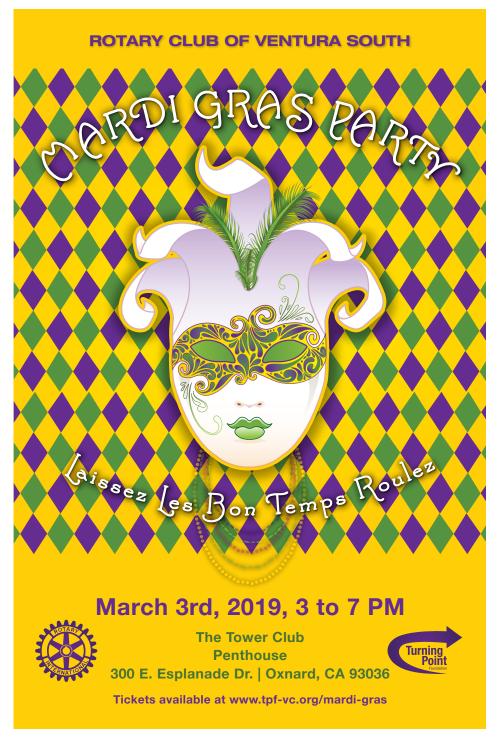

I will practice calling my pet to come for a treat at least once a day, using a clear and happy voice and calling by name ("Fido, Come!") I will try this from various rooms in the house and also the yard, and will practice more often if I notice he does not reliably come when called. I will remember that cats can learn to come when called, too, and will save my cat's favorite treats or toys to be delivered when I call him to me.

Let's talk about ensuring we have jazz in town, and not just every now and then. I'm talking about a venue where you can count on not only local artists having a place to showcase their talent, but a jazz house where world-class musicians travel to Ventura (some actually live here) to play in front of an appreciative audience. Of course, I'm talking about Squashed Grapes re-opening at their new location in mid-town Ventura. If you'd like to weigh in, then you are invited to attend the obligatory public hearing to be held at Ventura City Hall in the Council Chambers on Wednesday, April 10, at 6 pm; please mark it on your calendar now. I'll be there, and I'm personally inviting you to come help Adam and Josh reopen Squashed Grapes. Long live The Grape!

Sorry to report we've lost another venue for live music. I'd like to thank Kristen Shubert for the past few years for running Vintura at the Wine Rack and offering not only a lovely place to hang, a crew happy to describe the wines available but for also supporting Ventura's music scene by providing an eclectic mix of artists on their stage. Unfortunately, she lost her lease but she went out in fine fashion by selling everything in the venue from bottles of wine at half off, to all items in the store, cushions to artwork. Her last day for music was Monday, February 25, with artists showing up to jam as a final send off.

Quick Notes: The Black Angus at Main and Telephone now offers live music 5:30 – 8:30 pm on Thursdays; The Grape presents Doug Webb featuring Danny Carey (TOOL) at the Hong Kong Inn on Saturday, March 2; Pennywise plays the Ventura Theater, Saturday, March 2, Zoe on Friday, March 8; Salzer's has an in-store performance from Trouble in the Wind on Friday, March 1 at 6 pm; the Ventura College Symphony Orchestra's Concertos night will be Saturday, March 2; Bank of Books will have three bands in the house for an all ages show on Saturday, March 9, at 6 pm featuring The Crawdads, The References and King Archie: Luicidal Tendencies, featuring members of Suicidal Tendencies play The Garage on Tuesday, March 5, along with IDecline, Sick Sense and F.S.K.D.; and finally Jodi Farrell will once again highlight her students with a performance workshop at Namba on Saturday, March 9, at noon.

Just a side note, The Lantern Festival seemed to be a success if you're solely going by the number of people participating. I hope they'll be back next year, maybe advertise a little more and I hope the weather cooperates with less wind. Of course, it could have been worse, it could have rained.

Do you have any music-related news or upcoming shows you want help publicizing? Please send all information short or long to Pam@VenturaRocks.com. For updated music listings daily, go to www. VenturaRocks.com.

Buenaventura Art Association artists will present some creative flights of fancy in "Things With Wings," a Feb. 28-March 24 exhibit at the Buenaventura Gallery.

This member's show theme is intentionally broad and includes "birds, bees, airplanes, angels, dragons and more." Juror for this show is Lisa Mahoney, a plein-air painter and teacher.

Opening reception will be 6-9 p.m. March 1, during Ventura's First Friday gallery crawl, when many of the city's art groups open their studios so visitors can mingle and talk with the artists.

Buenaventura Gallery, in Studio 30 at Bell Arts Factory, 432 N. Ventura Ave., is open 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Thursdays through Sundays. For more about the 65-year-old nonprofit cooperative and its programs, visit www.buenaventuragallery.org or call 648-1235 during gallery hours.

FOTM Learning To See Art Showcase

Featuring art by Turning Point Foundation Clients

March 13 – April 1, 2019 Public Reception March 20 from 1:30 -2:30 pm

At Ambrosia by Caffrodite 7:00am -3:00pm (closed Tuesdays) 1987 E Main Street-805.628.9289.

Join Focus on the Masters Archive and Library (FOTM) and Turning Point Foundation for an exhibition featuring artwork created in FOTM's Learning To See (LTS) art program through Turning Point's Quality of Life Project by residents of Board and Care Homes who struggle with mental and physical health challenges this exhibition celebrates their endeavors and serves as inspiration for all in our community.

Turning Point's Quality of Life members have been exploring their creative spirits through weekly art programs with the LTS program for over 4 years. Each class offers them the valuable opportunity to engage with others, express creativity, practice physical dexterity, and gain a sense of accomplishment as they face the challenges of living with mental illness.

Turning Point Foundation addresses the critical community support needs of mentally ill adults, serving more than 500 clients each year through its shelter, supported housing and rehabilitation programs. Turning Point improves our communities by helping those facing mental illness remain or become functioning, integral community members. They are a critical support organization for families dealing with the devastation of mental illness.

Participating locations The Elms in Ventura and Sunrise Manor in Oxnard.

Planning your solo show - Artists' Talk Saturday, March 16, 10:00am - 12:00 pm

Instructor: Darlene Roker

Sooner or later, many artists dream of having their own solo show, yet they wonder about all the details involved. The President of BAA's Board, Darlene Roker, says,

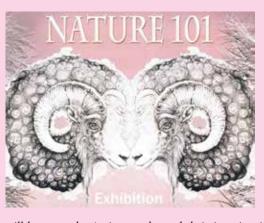

"If this is you, help is at hand! After putting on numerous solo shows, both in Ventura and Santa Barbara, I've learned some of what works and what doesn't. Let me walk you through the process, from creating a theme to opening night reception. It's really quite do-able!"

Cost: $5.00 - Public Fee (non-member)

Free - BAA members Buenaventura Gallery

At the Bell Arts Factory, entrance at the corner of Harrison and Ventura Ave.

Ventura Artists Union presents "Nature 101", the exhibition runs through April 14 at Art City Studio Gallery. This show will be all encompassing from the flea to giant creatures we all share this space together. We all have equal importance. We are all 'Citizens of the Earth', and possibly beyond? Cohabitation at times is difficult....but in the safety of the Art Gallery cohabitation is easy, sharing this space is easy. This will be up to the Artists psyche and their imagination. Curated by Joe Palmoutsos Reception is Saturday, March 2 at 4pm. Art City Gallery 197 Dubbers st. 648-1690. www.artcitygalleryandstudios.com

For three weekends in March the ARTLIFE Foundation will exhibit new Mail Art from around the world, the US, and Ventura, in a show that reprises artist Joe Cardella's 25-year promotion of Mail (Postal) Art.

The "plein air" exhibit of 200 mailed-in pieces of art from 20 countries and 13 states is at 539 Howard Street, Ventura. This is the site of Cardella's home/studio and the ARTLIFE Foundation.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your efforts in behalf of a colleague do not go unnoticed, let alone unappreciated. Meanwhile, arrange to spend more time investigating that troubling fact you recently uncovered.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Devoting a lot of time to a current career move means having less time for those in your private life. But once you explain the circumstances, they should understand and be sup-of importance should help you get through them pretty quickly. Additional information puts that still-tobe-made decision in a new light.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Lingering bad feelings over a recent misunderstanding should fade as reconciliation efforts continue. Meanwhile, vacation plans might need to be revised because of new developments.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Love dominates the Lion's heart this week, with Cupid shooting arrows at single Leos and Leonas looking for romance. Partnered pairs also enjoy strengthened relationships.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) "Getting to Know You" should be the single Virgo's theme song as you and that special person discover more about one another. That workplace situation needs looking into.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might be upset at having your objectivity questioned in the handling of a dispute. But it would be wise to re-examine your feelings to make sure you're being fair with both sides. SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A family dispute creates mixed feelings about how you hope it will be ultimately resolved. Best advice: Stay out of it and let the involved parties work it through by themselves.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Making an effort to smooth over even the smallest obstacles now will go a long way to assuring that things run smoothly once you're set to move on with your plans.

Ojai Theater relives opening

by Shirley Lorraine

The Ojai Art Center is recognized statewide as being the oldest continually operating non-profit Art Center. Let's face it, 80 years is a long time to engage the community in all forms of art, music, theater, dance and more. To celebrate and honor this longevity, the Art Center Theater has mounted a reprise production of the first play ever to grace the Art Center stage - Night Must Fall by Emlyn

Set in the English countryside in 1939, the psychological thriller is at once understated and complex. In other words, typically British.

Opening the action with a monologue, the role of Lord Chief Justice is played by a different member of the community every performance. What a nice way to include community leaders in the anniversary celebration.

A woman goes missing which becomes the talk of the town. The Manor's mistress, Mrs. Bramson, is a wheelchair-bound cranky busybody. Surrounding her are a snappy Cockney cook, a nurse, a naïve young maid and an unhappy poetry-writing niece and her suitor. Enter the maid's paramour who enchants Mrs. Bramson and settles in, to the disdain of almost everyone.

All the while the murder is still to be solved and everyone is a suspect. When the body is found in the manor's rubbish, the local inspector arrives to question each, and the fun really begins. All the characters who live in and enter the Manor are decidedly unique and definitive in their characters.

Mrs. Bramson, played by Sindy McKay, is a crafty, controlling old woman. McKay leads the audience into her world with aplomb. She is frequently confronted by her outspoken cook, Laura Ring. The innocent Dora, the maid, is given just the right touch by Brett Baxter. Stoic Nurse Libby is given dimension by Denise Heller.

The wary niece, Olivia, played by Angelica Smith, is a study to watch as her emotions are subtle yet easily readable.

Stephen Shareaux does a nice turn as Hubert, Olivia's consistently rejected suitor. Louis Graham as the formidable Inspector Belsize is just right in the role. The quirky character of Dan, the uninvited guest who stayed, is wonderfully manic. David Nelson Taylor takes on the role with fervor.

As the play unfolds, the audience is treated to many possibilities of how it happened and who did it. There are surprises along the way as well as twists and turns, as there should be in a good murder mystery. Director Richard Camp has assembled a strong cast to perform this memorable play.

Authentic period setting of the manor's interior is enhanced by spot-on costuming by Tracey Williams Sutton.

As a well-needed bonus, the theater now has new theater seats, a new sound and light booth (no longer in the back of the audience seating) and other small but noticeable improvements. The Arts Center thanks the community for their generosity in making these alterations possible. What a terrific way to say thank you for the last 80 years, and a grand welcome to the next 80.

Night Must Fall runs through March 10. Friday and Saturday performances are at 7:30 p.m., Sunday performances are at 2 p.m. General admission $25, senior and art center members, $20, under age 25 $10. Season tickets are now available for purchase. Ojai Art Center Theater, 113 S. Montgomery, Ojai. www.ojaiact.org or (805) 640-8797 for reservations.113Night Must Fall" runs through March 10. Performances are Fridays and Saturdays at 7:30 p.m., and Sundays at 2.m For tickets, call 805-640-8797 or go to OjaiAct.org. The Ojai Art Center Theater is at 113 S. Montgomery St.

by our current President. Isn't that what a free press is about? He is an unfortunate and dangerous politician because he puts His businesses ahead of The People. We see evidence of this daily. I just hope the investigations trying to uncover the truth about who he is and what he has been doing are released to All the American electorate. Then let them judge. A Democracy is only as good as the People. Suzanna Ballmer, Ventura

Editor:

I'm wondering how long it will be before CalTrans corrects their mistake on the NB Main Street exit from the US101 and CA126?

After the repaying work, the re-striping of the off ramp did not include the original limit line but did include the crosswalk. The sensors to trip the signal have been moved to past the original limit line. This causes vehicles to go all the way to the crosswalk and can't see the traffic signal above them.

When I went to the CalTrans website to report this issue, the robot recognized that an issue had been previously reported at this location.

Maybe CalTrans will get around to fixing it someday. In the meantime drivers will be craning their neck to see the traffic signal. Or stop before the main sensor and wait forever.

Isn't It Romantic

Breeze rating from 1 to 4 palm trees, 4 being best.

By: Victoria Usher

Isn't It Romantic is a 2019 romantic comedy film that was directed by Todd Strauss-Schulson. It was produced by Rebel Wilson, Todd Garner, Gina Matthews, and Grant Scharbo. The story was by Erin Cardillo. The screenplay was by Erin Cardillo, Dana Fox, and Katie Silberman. The cinematography was by Simon Duggan. The music was by John Debney. It was edited by Andrew Marcus. The production design was done by Sharon Seymour. The film was distributed by Warner Bros. Pictures and released in cinemas on February 13th, 2019. It was announced on January 30th, 2019 that the film will be released on Netflix internationally on February 28th, 2019. The stars of the film include Rebel Wilson, Liam Hemsworth, Adam DeVine, Priyanka Chopra, Betty Gilpin, Jennifer Saunders, and Tom Ellis.

In the film, Natalie (Rebel Wilson) is an Australian architect living in New York City. Natalie wakes up after being knocked unconscious and mugged on the subway to find that her world has literally been turned into a PG-13 romantic comedy. In Natalie's real-life romantic comedy, her tiny apartment is now a luxurious studio apartment, the grimy streets of New York City are now full of bright colors, regular stores have been replaced by beautiful flower shops, and there are pigeons flying up above in heart-shaped formation. Natalie's best friend at work has now become her work enemy, and a gorgeous real estate investor (Liam Hemsworth) shows obvious interest in her. Natalie's other best friend, Josh (Adam Devine) is the only one who appears to be exactly the same as before, and the only one who still notices all the good things in her the same exact way he did before.

There are a few moments throughout the film that are exciting in an unexpected way, referencing scenes from other well-known romantic comedies such as: When Harry Met Sally, Pretty Woman, Notting Hill, and 13 Going On 30. What really makes this film refreshingly different from other romantic comedies is that it makes fun of the romantic comedy genre while expressing the beauty and importance of real love at the same time. Isn't It Romantic is a truly wild and entertaining ride. (Rated: PG-13) (Running Time: 1h 28m)

by Sergio Coppa

MBA Marketing Manager

Ventura small businesses and organizations have been challenged to unleash the power of their community. forces with formerly United Blood Services, is a winning formula for patients in our community. Together, we transform lives each and every day, right here at home. Opportunities to be an agent of positive change don't come by every day, but by accepting this challenge and by challenging your employees, vendors, friends, family, and social media tribe to transform lives, that's just what you'll do. Take the challenge to build a donation team who will use their gifts to promote your own blood drive in Vitalant's Ventura donor center.

Patients supported by Ventura area blood donations require 100 donations every day. Many people believe that most blood is needed after major disasters. However, daily personal emergencies and ongoing medical needs of local patients require a constant and ready blood supply. It's the blood already on hospital shelves that saves lives. Over the past 5 years the community's donor base has been shrinking as the donor population ages. Because of this, the call to action for new donors is a continual process by Vitalant and blood donation centers across the country.

Oftentimes, the reason a person donates is because someone close to them is in need of a transfusion and then they become very passionate about blood donation and influence their friends and family to donate. Educating potential donors to ignite that passion before someone is affected by a personal tragedy is one reason for this challenge, the more donors we have as a community, the more secure our blood supply will remain.

How you can participate: Dedicate and book a day to sponsor your drive from April 1 through June 30 and recruit a minimum of 10 team members to sign up to be ready to donate. Donors who donate at your drive will receive credit for your challenge team. The team with the most donations from April 1 - June 30 will not only receive bragging rights, but will receive a trophy, an advertisement in the Ventura Breeze, with a write up about how awesome your team is. With a congratulatory post on Vitalant's Facebook, Instagram and Twitter pages. Plus, your team will receive a scrumptious coffee and pastry breakfast.

Contact Laura Segura to join the challenge at 1.805.406.7602 or by e-mail at LSegura@vitalant.org. Vitalan, 2223 Eastman Ave, STE A, Ventura, CA 93003.
